Rapid Antigen Tests are excellent for people with COVID-19 symptoms* or for people who were in close contact with someone 3-5 days ago who was COVID positive. See the footnotes below for more information on symptoms and the definition of close contact.

All eligible community members experiencing COVID-19 symptoms are encouraged to visit the Timmerman Center for testing.

Rapid Antigen Tests are not ideal for deployers or international travelers because some countries require PCR tests. The 87th Medical Group has limited PCR testing capacity and will send most patients to the Timmerman Center for rapid tests. The MTF will provide PCR tests to people with COVID-19 symptoms who tested negative with a rapid test, and to deployers/international travelers.

* Symptoms of COVID-19 include fever, chills, sore throat, congestion, runny nose, cough, fatigue, headache, trouble breathing, loss of sense of taste or smell, body aches, nausea, vomiting or diarrhea.

A Close Contact is someone who was 6 feet or less from a person with COVID-19 for more than 15 minutes total during a 24-hour period.
