Reading Skills: Skill lessons follow First Reads, and apply the Gradual Release of Responsibility Model. First, students read the definition of the skill or strategy they'll be applying and watch a Concept Definition video. In the Model portion of Skills lessons, students re-read short passages from the First Read, and receive explicit instruction about how and why a particular skill or strategy applies to the text. Teachers guide students through this "we do" portion of the lesson, facilitating discussion with follow-up questions from the lesson plan. In the final portion of a Skills lesson students apply the knowledge they've gained in the first parts of the lesson to respond to two short questions about a different passage of text from the First Read.
Close Reads : Close Read lessons culminate the instructional reading routine. Close Read lessons begin with an emphasis on vocabulary instruction as students refine or confirm their analyses of vocabulary in the First Read. Close Read lessons then challenge students to apply skills and reading strategies as they re-read and annotate the text in preparation for writing their own short constructed response.
StudySyncTV : Episodes are included in First Read lessons in each unit.
Writing Skills: Skill lessons break the writing process down and aid students as they learn to "write routinely over extended and shorter time frames."

Stage 3:	Learning Plan
Learning Opportunities/Strategies: Blasts: Students respond to the short informational texts and driving questions with 140-character or less Blast responses that allow them to practice clear concise writing. Students read and respond to one another's Blasts, creating a social learning environment that teachers can easily mediate and monitor. First Reads: Instruction around each text begins with a First Read lesson. Each First Read lesson concludes with a series of short answer questions asking students to provide textual evidence to support their understanding of the text. Reading Skills: Skill lessons follow First Reads, and apply the Gradual Release of Responsibility Model. First, students read the definition of the skill or strategy they'll be applying and watch a Concept Definition video. In the Model portion of Skills lessons, students re-read short passages from the First Read, and receive explicit instruction about	http://youthandmedia.org/teaching-and-outreach/digital-literac y-resource-platform/how and why a particular skill or strategy applies to the text. Teachers guide students through this "we do" portion of the lesson, facilitating discussion with follow-up questions from the lesson plan. In the final portion of a Skills lesson students apply the knowledge they've gained in the first parts of the lesson to respond to two short questions about a different passage of text from the First Read.

Close Reads : Close Read lessons culminate the instructional reading routine. Close Read lessons begin with an emphasis on vocabulary instruction as students refine or confirm their analyses of vocabulary in the First Read. Close Read lessons then challenge students to apply skills and reading strategies as they re-read and annotate the text in preparation for writing their own short constructed response.
StudySyncTV : Episodes are included in First Read lessons in each unit.
Writing Skills : Skill lessons break the writing process down and aid students as they learn to "write routinely over extended and shorter time frames."

Blasts : Students respond to the short informational texts and driving questions with 140-character or less Blast responses that allow them to practice clear concise writing. Students read and respond to one another's Blasts, creating a social learning environment that teachers can easily mediate and monitor. First Reads: Instruction around each text begins	Supporting LGBTQIA Youth Resource List with a First Read lesson. Each First Read lesson concludes with a series of short answer questions	Respect Ability: Fighting Stigmas, Advancing Opportunities asking students to provide textual evidence to support their understanding of the text.	Learning for Justice
Reading Skills: Skill lessons follow First Reads, and apply the Gradual Release of Responsibility	NJ Commission on Holocaust Education
Model. First, students read the definition of the skill	The New Jersey Amistad Commission Interactive Curriculum or strategy they'll be applying and watch a Concept Definition video. In the Model portion of Skills lessons, students re-read short passages from the First Read, and receive explicit instruction about how and why a particular skill or strategy applies to the text. Teachers guide students through this "we do" portion of the lesson, facilitating discussion with follow-up questions from the lesson plan. In the final portion of a Skills lesson students apply the knowledge they've gained in the first parts of the lesson to respond to two short questions about a different passage of text from the First Read.	www.adata.org
Close Reads : Close Read lessons culminate the instructional reading routine. Close Read lessons begin with an emphasis on vocabulary instruction as students refine or confirm their analyses of vocabulary in the First Read. Close Read lessons then challenge students to apply skills and reading strategies as they re-read and annotate the text in preparation for writing their own short constructed response.
StudySyncTV : Episodes are included in First Read lessons in each unit.

Each lesson in the unit contains resources and guidance for teachers to enrich and extend activities for beyond grade-level learners. The lesson plans are divided into two parts: the Core Path, for core instruction; and the Access Path, for scaffolded instruction.	The Core Path of each unit contains ten to twelve texts and text excerpts from a variety of genres and text types. Each unit contains at least one text drawn from the Common Core's Appendix B list of exemplar texts. The instructional routines are developed around these texts to support best practices in reading instruction and aid students in meaning making, effective expression, language development and the acquisition of content knowledge and foundational skills.	Each lesson in the unit contains resources and guidance for teachers to scaffold instruction for approaching grade-level learners. Each lesson plan is divided into two parts: the Core Path, for core instruction; and the Access Path, for scaffolded instruction. Access Path exercises break core instruction down into discrete tasks and home in on the language development and foundational skill aspects of an exercise that make it more difficult for approaching grade-level learners. The Access Path guides teachers on the best ways to leverage technology tools like Closed Captioning and Audio Text Highlight to engage and instruct learners, and makes helpful suggestions about how and when to alternate between whole group, small group, and one-on-one instruction. Access Path scaffolds go well beyond instructions to the teacher, though, as each lesson also includes a full complement of Access Handouts. These handouts are differentiated for all three levels of English learners and	Any student requiring further accommodations and/or modifications will have them individually listed in their 504 Plan or IEP. These might include, but are not limited to: breaking assignments into smaller tasks, giving directions through several channels (auditory, visual, kinesthetic, model), and/or small group instruction for reading/writing ELL supports should include, but are not limited to, the following: Extended time Provide visual aids Repeated directions Differentiate based on proficiency Provide word banks Allow for translators, dictionaries
