Unit 1: Introductions

Stage 1: Desired Results

Standards & Indicators:

World Languages: All students will be able to use a world language in addition to English to engage in meaningful conversation, to understand and interpret spoken and written language, and to present information, concepts, and ideas, while also gaining an understanding of the perspectives of other cultures. Through language study, they will make connections with other content areas, compare the language and culture studied with their own, and participate in home and global communities.

Proficiency Level and Grade Level Performance Benchmark: Novice-Mid: Students communicate using memorized words and some phrases to talk about familiar topics related to school, home, and the community.

Strand 1 Interpretive Mode

The mode of communication in which students demonstrate understanding of spoken and written communication within the appropriate cultural context. Examples of "one-way" reading or listening include cultural interpretations of print, video, and online texts, movies, radio and television broadcasts, and speeches. Interpretation beyond the Novice level differs from comprehension because it implies the ability to read or listen "between the lines" and "beyond the lines."

Content Statement

🕰 Linguistic:

The Novice-Mid language learner understands and communicates at the word level and can independently identify and recognize memorized words and phrases that bring meaning to text.

🕰 Cultural:

- Through the target language, learners recognize and identify the names of a few typical products related to everyday life in the target culture and in the learners' own culture. Topics that assist in the development of this understanding should include, but are not limited to the following themes:
  - o self
  - o friends
  - family
  - pets
  - physical/personality descriptions
  - weather, school
  - likes/dislikes
  - pastimes.
- Learners recognize and identify a few typical practices of the target culture. Topics that assist in the development of this understanding should include, but are not limited to the following themes:
  - o respect for different family members and other individuals in a society
  - o similarities and differences of school routines and expectations
  - animals in the target culture(s) compared to those in the students' own culture(s)
  - the effects of weather patterns in target language regions of the world and in the students' own regions

Resources:

- Teacher-generated activities, worksheets, and assessments
- Duolingo

World Language Methodologies

Total Physical Response or TPR: Developed by Dr. Jams J. Asheri, this methodology teaches language or vocabulary by utilizing physical movement to respond to verbal input. The process mimics the way infants acquire language naturally.

The Waldorf Foreign Language Approach: This methodology is based on the idea that developing the ability to communicate is the primary purpose of foreign language acquisition. In addition, the Waldorf Approach affirms that the study of world languages raises social consciousness and fosters an interest and respect for others. In essence, the study of a world language is a window into the soul of another culture. "Because the manner in which we think is expressed through the language that we speak, we nurture a cultural understanding of other peoples through acquiring their language"

The Communicative Approach: The core principles of the Communicative Approach are that learners learn through authentic communication experiences and meaningful communication should be the goal of the world language lesson. Communication involves diverse language skills and learning is a creative process that involves trial and error.

The Grammar-Translation Method: A traditional method of teaching world languages, students learn grammatical rules and then apply those rules by translating sentences between the target language and the native language.

The Deductive Method: Grammatical rules are deduced by students. Students are given samples of language and must deduce the grammatical rules independently. In deductive teaching in world language, a word, phrase or sentence is presented as a problem, students analyze the information, formulate a rule, test the rule, and make a conclusion. The Deductive Method is preferred to the Grammar-Translation Method because students retain grammatical rules more efficiently, build analytical skills and are encouraged to become self-learners.

Cooperative Learning Strategies

Kagan Cooperative Learning: Kagan Structures are instructional strategies designed to promote cooperation and communication in the classroom, boost students' confidence and retain their interest in classroom interaction.

Unit 2: Home

Stage 1: Desired Results

Standards & Indicators:

World Languages: All students will be able to use a world language in addition to English to engage in meaningful conversation, to understand and interpret spoken and written language, and to present information, concepts, and ideas, while also gaining an understanding of the perspectives of other cultures. Through language study, they will make connections with other content areas, compare the language and culture studied with their own, and participate in home and global communities.

Proficiency Level and Grade Level Performance Benchmark: Novice-Mid: Students communicate using memorized words and some phrases to talk about familiar topics related to school, home, and the community.

Strand 1 Interpretive Mode

The mode of communication in which students demonstrate understanding of spoken and written communication within the appropriate cultural context. Examples of "one-way" reading or listening include cultural interpretations of print, video, and online texts, movies, radio and television broadcasts, and speeches. Interpretation beyond the Novice level differs from comprehension because it implies the ability to read or listen "between the lines" and "beyond the lines."

Content Statement

🕰 Linguistic:

The Novice-Mid language learner understands and communicates at the word level and can independently identify and recognize memorized words and phrases that bring meaning to text.

🕰 Cultural:

- Through the target language, learners recognize and identify the names of a few typical products related to everyday life in the target culture and in the learners' own culture. Topics that assist in the development of this understanding should include, but are not limited to the following themes:
  - o self
  - o friends
  - family
  - pets
  - physical/personality descriptions
  - weather, school
  - likes/dislikes
  - pastimes.
- Learners recognize and identify a few typical practices of the target culture. Topics that assist in the development of this understanding should include, but are not limited to the following themes:
  - respect for different family members and other individuals in a society
  - similarities and differences of school routines and expectations
  - animals in the target culture(s) compared to those in the students' own culture(s)
  - the effects of weather patterns in target language regions of the world and in the students' own regions

Learning Opportunities/Strategies:

General Instructional Strategies for Communicative-based Language Classrooms

- Maximize the use of target language with most instructions, directions and explanations given in the target language if possible based on terms of relevance, learning styles and abilities.
- Repeat previously-learned material through activities, readings, songs and games.
- Establish a consistent routine and structure.
- Use repetitive language within your routine.
- Use real objects, gestures, pictures, and other visuals to convey meaning.
- Focus on language that is concerned with functional situations and authentic utterances.
- Do not always insist on complete sentences, but mirror natural speech patterns.
- Adopt a conversational approach replicating "real" situations likely to occur.
- Teach vocabulary in context, including all kinds of idiomatic phrases.
- Use paired activities and small-group learning.
- Use cooperative learning tools that maximize student engagement.
- Use technology.
- Use a variety of print and nonprint materials.

Resources:

- Teacher-generated activities, worksheets, and assessments
- Duolingo
- Quizlet
- Kahoot!
- Google Classroom
- Google Tools: Docs, Forms, Sheets, Meets, etc.
- Kagan Structures
- Internet

- Strive to develop cultural awareness using authentic cultural realia as a springboard for communication in the language.
- Emphasize acceptable communication, rather than near-native pronunciation.
- Ensure a match between the learner and the language in terms of relevance and learning style.

World Language Methodologies

Total Physical Response or TPR: Developed by Dr. Jams J. Asheri, this methodology teaches language or vocabulary by utilizing physical movement to respond to verbal input. The process mimics the way infants acquire language naturally.

The Waldorf Foreign Language Approach: This methodology is based on the idea that developing the ability to communicate is the primary purpose of foreign language acquisition. In addition, the Waldorf Approach affirms that the study of world languages raises social consciousness and fosters an interest and respect for others. In essence, the study of a world language is a window into the soul of another culture. "Because the manner in which we think is expressed through the language that we speak, we nurture a cultural understanding of other peoples through acquiring their language"

The Communicative Approach: The core principles of the Communicative Approach are that learners learn through authentic communication experiences and meaningful communication should be the goal of the world language lesson. Communication involves diverse language skills and learning is a creative process that involves trial and error.

The Grammar-Translation Method: A traditional method of teaching world languages, students learn grammatical rules and then apply those rules by translating sentences between the target language and the native language.

The Deductive Method: Grammatical rules are deduced by students. Students are given samples of language and must deduce the grammatical rules independently. In deductive teaching in world language, a word, phrase or sentence is presented as a problem, students analyze the information, formulate a rule, test the rule, and make a conclusion. The Deductive Method is preferred to the Grammar-Translation Method because students retain grammatical rules more efficiently, build analytical skills and are encouraged to become self-learners.

Cooperative Learning Strategies

Kagan Cooperative Learning: Kagan Structures are instructional strategies designed to promote cooperation and communication in the classroom, boost students' confidence and retain their interest in classroom interaction.

Unit 3: Sentence Skills

Stage 1: Desired Results

Standards & Indicators:

World Languages: All students will be able to use a world language in addition to English to engage in meaningful conversation, to understand and interpret spoken and written language, and to present information, concepts, and ideas, while also gaining an understanding of the perspectives of other cultures. Through language study, they will make connections with other content areas, compare the language and culture studied with their own, and participate in home and global communities.

Proficiency Level and Grade Level Performance Benchmark: Novice-Mid: Students communicate using memorized words and some phrases to talk about familiar topics related to school, home, and the community.

Strand 1 Interpretive Mode

The mode of communication in which students demonstrate understanding of spoken and written communication within the appropriate cultural context. Examples of "one-way" reading or listening include cultural interpretations of print, video, and online texts, movies, radio and television broadcasts, and speeches. Interpretation beyond the Novice level differs from comprehension because it implies the ability to read or listen "between the lines" and "beyond the lines."

Content Statement

🕰 Linguistic:

The Novice-Mid language learner understands and communicates at the word level and can independently identify and recognize memorized words and phrases that bring meaning to text.

🕰 Cultural:

- Through the target language, learners recognize and identify the names of a few typical products related to everyday life in the target culture and in the learners' own culture. Topics that assist in the development of this understanding should include, but are not limited to the following themes:
  - self
  - o friends
  - family
  - pets
  - physical/personality descriptions
  - weather, school
  - likes/dislikes
  - o pastimes.
- Learners recognize and identify a few typical practices of the target culture. Topics that assist in the development of this understanding should include, but are not limited to the following themes:
  - respect for different family members and other individuals in a society
  - similarities and differences of school routines and expectations
  - animals in the target culture(s) compared to those in the students' own culture(s)
  - the effects of weather patterns in target language regions of the world and in the students' own regions

Indicator # & Indicators

- 7.1.NM.IPRET.1: Identify familiar spoken and written words, phrases, and simple sentences contained in culturally authentic materials and other resources related to targeted themes.
- 7.1.NM.IPRET.2: Respond with actions and/or gestures to oral and written directions, commands, and requests that relate to familiar and practiced topics.
- 7.1.NM.IPRET.3: Identify familiar people, places, objects in daily life based on simple oral and written descriptions.

- 7.1.NM.IPRET.5: Demonstrate comprehension of brief oral and written messages found in short culturally authentic materials on global issues, including climate change

Strand 2 Interpersonal Mode

The mode of communication in which students engage, understand, and communicate at the word and phrase level independently when responding to learned questions, ask memorized questions, state needs and preferences, and briefly describe people, places, and things. They have no real functional abilities and, therefore, cannot participate in true exchanges of information.

Content Statement

🕰 Linguistic:

The Novice-Mid language learner understands and communicates to exchange information at the word level and can use memorized words and phrases independently to:

- Negotiate meaning between and among individuals
- Respond to learned questions.
- Ask memorized questions.
- Describe people, places, and things.

🕏 Cultural:

The Novice-Mid Cultural Content Statements remain the same for all the strands.

Indicator # & Indicators

- •7.1.NM.IPERS.1: Request and provide information by asking and answering simple, practiced questions, using memorized words and phrases.
- 7.1.NM.IPERS.2: Share basic needs on very familiar topics using words, phrases, and short memorized, formulaic sentences practiced in class.
- 7.1.NM.IPERS.3: Express one's own and react to others' basic preferences and/or feelings using memorized, words, phrases, and simple memorized sentences that are supported by gestures and visuals.

- 7.1.NM.IPERS.6: Exchange brief messages with others about climate in the target regions of the world and in one's own region using memorized and practiced words, phrases, and simple, formulaic sentences

Strand 3 Presentational Mode

The mode of communication in which students present, understand, and communicate at the word and phrase level and can use memorized words and phrases independently when stating needs and preferences. They can describe people, places, and things with a combination of memorized words and phrases and a few simple sentences formed by combining and recombining learned language.

Content Statement

🕰 Linguistic:

Career Readiness, Life Literacies and Key Skills

Standard	Performance Expectations	Core Ideas
Career Awareness and Planning	9.2.12.CAP.6: Identify transferable skills in career choices and design alternative career plans based on those skills.	Career planning requires purposeful planning based on research, self-knowledge, and informed choices
Creativity and Innovation	9.4.12.CI.1: Demonstrate the ability to reflect, analyze, and use creative skills and ideas (e.g., 1.1.12 prof.CR3a).	With a growth mindset, failure is an important part of success.
Critical Thinking and Problem-solving	9.4.12.CT.2: Explain the potential benefits of collaborating to enhance critical thinking and problem solving (e.g., 1.3E.12profCR3.a).  9.4.12.CT.4: Participate in online strategy and planning sessions for course-based, school-based, or other	Collaboration with individuals with diverse experiences can aid in the problem-solving process, particularly for global issues where diverse solutions are needed.

	project and determine the strategies that contribute to effective outcomes
Digital Citizenship	9.4.12.DC.1: Explain the beneficial and harmful effects that intellectual property laws can have on the creation and sharing of content (e.g., 6.1.12.CivicsPR.16.a).	Laws govern the use of intellectual property and there are legal consequences to utilizing or sharing another's original works without permission or appropriate credit.
Global and Cultural Awareness	9.4.12.GCA.1: Collaborate with individuals to analyze a variety of potential solutions to climate change effects and determine why some solutions (e.g., political. economic, cultural) may work better than others (e.g., SL.11-12.1., HS-ETS1-1, HS-ETS1-2, HS-ETS1-4, 6.3.12.GeoGl.1, 7.1.IH.IPERS.6, 7.1.IL.IPERS.7, 8.2.12.ETW.3).	Solutions to the problems faced by a global society require the contribution of individuals with different points of view and experiences.
Information and Media Literacy	9.4.12.IML.6: Use various types of media to produce and store information on climate change for different purposes and audiences with sensitivity to cultural, gender, and age diversity (e.g., NJSLSA.SL5)  9.4.12.IML.8: Evaluate media sources for point of view, bias, and motivations (e.g., NJSLSA.R6, 7.1.AL.IPRET.6).	In order for members of our society to participate productively, information needs to be shared accurately and ethically.  Media have embedded values and points of view.
Technology Literacy	9.4.12.TL.1: Assess digital tools based on features such as accessibility options, capacities, and utility for accomplishing a specified task (e.g., W.11-12.6.).	Digital tools differ in features, capacities, and styles. Knowledge of different digital tools is helpful in selecting the best tool for a given task.
Central Idea / Enduring Understanding:  Students use the target language in the three modes of communication to explore personal family and home and those of Spanish-speaking countries and cultures and examine what they share in common with families and home of the target culture. They understand that language is at the heart of human interaction and that formal language is needed to express precise ideas in diverse situations. Learning a new language is an on-going process that involves trial and error with the goal being effective communication, not word-for-word translations.		<ul> <li>Essential/Guiding Questions:</li> <li>What skills do you already have as a native speaker that will help you learn a new language?</li> <li>Why is it important to be precise with language?</li> <li>What is communication?</li> <li>How do you improve your communication skills?</li> <li>Does language change in different situations?</li> <li>Why do I need to learn another language if there are portable translators?</li> </ul>

Learning Opportunities/Strategies:

General Instructional Strategies for Communicative-based Language Classrooms

- Maximize the use of target language with most instructions, directions and explanations given in the target language if possible based on terms of relevance, learning styles and abilities.
- Repeat previously-learned material through activities, readings, songs and games.
- Establish a consistent routine and structure.
- Use repetitive language within your routine.
- Use real objects, gestures, pictures, and other visuals to convey meaning.
- Focus on language that is concerned with functional situations and authentic utterances.
- Do not always insist on complete sentences, but mirror natural speech patterns.
- Adopt a conversational approach replicating "real" situations likely to occur.
- Teach vocabulary in context, including all kinds of idiomatic phrases.
- Use paired activities and small-group learning.
- Use cooperative learning tools that maximize student engagement.
- Use technology.
- Use a variety of print and nonprint materials.
- Strive to develop cultural awareness using authentic cultural realia as a springboard for communication in the language.

Resources:

- Teacher-generated activities, worksheets, and assessments
- Duolingo
- Quizlet
- Kahoot!
- Google Classroom
- Google Tools: Docs, Forms, Sheets, Meets, etc.
- Kagan Structures
- Internet

- Emphasize acceptable communication, rather than near-native pronunciation.
- Ensure a match between the learner and the language in terms of relevance and learning style.

World Language Methodologies

Total Physical Response or TPR: Developed by Dr. Jams J. Asheri, this methodology teaches language or vocabulary by utilizing physical movement to respond to verbal input. The process mimics the way infants acquire language naturally.

The Waldorf Foreign Language Approach: This methodology is based on the idea that developing the ability to communicate is the primary purpose of foreign language acquisition. In addition, the Waldorf Approach affirms that the study of world languages raises social consciousness and fosters an interest and respect for others. In essence, the study of a world language is a window into the soul of another culture. "Because the manner in which we think is expressed through the language that we speak, we nurture a cultural understanding of other peoples through acquiring their language"

The Communicative Approach: The core principles of the Communicative Approach are that learners learn through authentic communication experiences and meaningful communication should be the goal of the world language lesson. Communication involves diverse language skills and learning is a creative process that involves trial and error.

The Grammar-Translation Method: A traditional method of teaching world languages, students learn grammatical rules and then apply those rules by translating sentences between the target language and the native language.

The Deductive Method: Grammatical rules are deduced by students. Students are given samples of language and must deduce the grammatical rules independently. In deductive teaching in world language, a word, phrase or sentence is presented as a problem, students analyze the information, formulate a rule, test the rule, and make a conclusion. The Deductive Method is preferred to the Grammar-Translation Method because students retain grammatical rules more efficiently, build analytical skills and are encouraged to become self-learners.

Cooperative Learning Strategies

Kagan Cooperative Learning: Kagan Structures are instructional strategies designed to promote cooperation and communication in the classroom, boost students' confidence and retain their interest in classroom interaction.
